The difficulty of keeping count of and getting access to the inscriptions relating to various dynasties was felt long ago by both scholars and students in the field of research. Bhandarkar and Kielhorn made the pioneer attempt in the direction of indexing these records published in various journals and periodicals and published the Northern and Southern lists in the Epigraphia Indica. The difficulty increased as the number of inscriptions surveyed and published increased. Several other attempts at indexing inscriptions followed. V. Rangacharya brought out a three volume index entitled Inscriptions in the Madras Presidency. This publication contained very short notices of inscriptions arranged on the topographical basis and a Dynastic Index at the end. But it covered the period up to 1915 only. Subsequently, the Epigraphy Department, Madras, published two indexes. One of them, entitled Subject Index to the Annual Reports on South Indian Epigraphy from 1887 to 1936, and published in 1940, is an index to part II of the Epigraphy Reports. The other, entitled List of Inscriptions copied by the office of the Superintendent for Epigraphy, Madras, and published in 1941, contained a topographical index of stone inscriptions surveyed, an index of inscriptions published and a list of copper-plate grants examined, arranged in the Dynastic order. Another attempt in the same direction was made by Sewell in his Historical Inscriptions of Southern India, edited by Dr. S. Krishnaswami Aiyangar, with notes and published by the University of Madras. This publication contained short notices, of inscriptions up to 1923 arranged in the chronological order. In 1947 I brought out a small publication, entitled Inscriptions of Āndhra Dynasties, covering the period from the earliest times up to 1076 A. D. I have included in this work short summaries of stone and copper-plate inscriptions. I hoped to be able to continue this work but could not do so on account of other pre-occupations.

I resumed work on this index soon after I took charge as Professor and Head of the Department of History in the Sri Venkatesvara University, Tirupati, in 1959. I submitted, in 1960, a scheme, entitled Inscriptions of Āndhradēśa, in which summaries of all the inscriptions found in the districts of Āndhradēśa are to be included, as the 3rd Plan Research Project of my department. The University Grants Commission was pleased to accept my proposal and granted the necessary funds. Sri S. Govindarajulu, the then Vice-chancellor of the University, encouraged me in my work and gave me all the facilities required. Kumari A. Suryakumari, M.A., joined the department in 1962 as Research Assistant for this project and was of considerable help.

This work, entitled Inscriptions of Āndhradēśa, is in two volumes. The present volume, numbered as Volume I, is the Index Volume. The Second Volume, which is in the press, contains summaries of over 6,000 inscriptions, arranged on the topographical basis. This Volume contains four indexes—List of stone inscriptions surveyed, List of c.p. grants examined, List of inscriptions published and Dynastic Index. These tables were prepared by me, by Miss A. Suryakumari and by Sri V. Kamesvara Rao, Tutor in the department, to both of whom I am thankful.

I am extremely grateful to the University Grants Commission for not only approving the Project and sanctioning the necessary funds but also for kindly permitting me to utilise the unspent part of its original grant for the printing of these two volumes. I am also grateful to Dr. V. C. Vamana Rao, Vice-Chancellor of the S. V. University, for kind encouragement. I am thankful to the proprietor of the Bharati Vijayam Press, Madras, for evincing keen interest in printing this volume.

The printing of this work was started in June, 1966, while I was Professor of History in the S. V. University and completed after my retirement.
