REPORT.

THE Committee of the Madras Philanthropic Association have the pleasure to submit a Report of their proceedings since their nomination at the Establishment of the Institution, and regret that unavoidable circumstances have prevented their laying a statement before the Public at an earlier period. A great deal of time was necessarily occupied in preliminary arrangements, and although the Society had been established in October 1829, it was not until several months afterwards, that the Committee were able to ascertain the degree of Patronage it would experience, so as to determine the feasibility of the undertaking contemplated by the Association. These and similar impediments being now happily removed, the Committee do not apprehend any interruption in future, to the regularity of their Annual Reports. The views and objects professed by the Institution will be explained by the Appeal appended to this Report. Vide Appendix (A.)

The Committee having, much to their satisfaction, realized the highest anticipations of their wishes, fully ascribe the large measure of success they have attained, to the overruling providence of God. Among those, whose hearts, He has disposed to support this infant Institution, they cannot refrain from particularizing the Right Honorable S. R. Lushington, Governor of this Presidency, and are desirous to record their deep sense of gratitude for the liberality they have experienced from that distinguished Personage, and for the approbation he has condescendingly evinced to its objects, by the acceptance of the office of Patron to the Association.

The Committee further regard it an especial duty to express their acknowledgments for the Donations benevolently bestowed by the Honorable Sir R. Palmer, His Excellency Lieutenant General Sir G. T. Walker, the Honorable James Taylor, Esq. the Honorable Charles Harris, Esq. and the Honorable Sir R. Comyn, who had respectively been pleased to accept the office of Vice Patrons to the Institution. The Committee have likewise to own their obligations to the other distinguished Members of the Community, who have in an eminent manner contributed to the Association.

Encouraged by these contributions, as well as the support of the Community whom the objects of the Association more immediately concern, and favored with the generous auspices of the Public, the Committee lost no time in opening communications with Individuals at the different Stations in the interior, regarding the best mode of carrying into effect the object primarily professed by the Association, and the information obtained by this means, has proved useful in guiding the views of the Committee in their subsequent deliberations.

One of the first duties that became incumbent on the Committee, was to bring the object of the Association to the notice of Government, soliciting its countenance and support, and they refer with great satisfaction to the communication received from the Private Secretary to the Right Honorable the Governor on this subject in the Appendix (B.)-By this letter the attention of the Committee was particularly directed to the commencement of operations on the Nilgherries; but from the difficulty experienced in obtaining the services of an Individual possessing practical knowledge to assist the Committee, they were induced to depute one of their own body to visit the Hills, to furnish them with such information as would guide them in accomplishing their purpose: -although this measure has failed in its object, by which a stimulus has been wanting to the establishment of Farmers on the Hills, yet the Committee are happy to state, that the person thus deputed, has since been induced to form an Establishment at Ootacamund. Encouragement had likewise been given to another settler on these Hills, and the Committee hope that from the combined exertions of these Individuals, sufficient success will result to sanction the general opinion entertained of the Nilgherries, in respect to their suitableness for the purposes of colonization, and thereby extensively promote the object contemplated by the Society.

Whilst the Committee were thus situated, anxiously solicitous to extend their operations on the Nilgherries, their attention became directed to the Shervaroy Hills in the Salem Collectorate, on which they have been more successful in the accomplishment of their object.

In affording support to the first adventurer to these Hills, the Committee were gratified with the accounts received of his success, from which they were induced to hold out encouragement to several Individuals who had applied to proceed thither to establish themselves as Farmers, and it is with much satisfaction that the Committee are able to state in reference to these Hills, that three Persons have already commenced operations, that five others have since proceeded to join them for the same purpose, and that there are several Candidates whose applications are under consideration for eventual disposal.

In addition to the above, the Committee have the pleasure to report the establishment of two Individuals at Oossoor in the Burhamaul Country. Grants have been obtained by them from the Collector of the District for the Lands they had selected, and it is hoped they will prove successful in the Farms they are endeavouring to establish. With the view of maintaining the new occupations thus opened thro' the instrumentality of this Association, the Committee deemed it obligatory on them to attach Apprentices to every Settler who has been established under the auspices of this Institution. By this arrangement they hope to raise a body of practical Farmers, trained up from youth to Agricultural pursuits, and able at the expiration of their Apprenticeship, to take up farms on their own account, with such encouragements from this Society, as their previous good conduct may seem to deserve.

The Committee have adopted a scale of assistance to the settlers, which they had at first limited to one thousand Rupees, including all expences; they have since reduced it to seven hundred Rupees, and would hope as difficulties give way in Farmers establishing themselves, that it will be still further diminished. There has however been one exception to this scale, to which the Committee were induced to concede, from the peculiarity of the case, and the strong recommendations in its favor, and the more so. as it was in the instance of the first Farmer on the Shervaroy Hills, from whose success they anticipate the fate of the subsequent settlers in that quarter. A copy of the Covenant entered into by the settlers will be found in the Appendix. (C.)

viduals in Agricultural Pursuits, their attention has not been merely confined to the primary object of the Association, but has been equally directed to the consideration of other plans for opening new sources of employment for their Countrymen. In deputing one of their members as already stated, to proceed to the Nilgherries, he was at the same time instructed to report on the practicability of establishing Inns on the new road to Bangalore. From the information received, the establishment of Inns does not seem to hold out very encouraging prospects, not only from the circumstance of there being but few Gentlemen, who do not travel in the warm weather by dak, well provided with every requisite comfort for the road, but from the comparative smallness of the number of those, who, may be assumed even on average, to take advantage of such an establishment; the average being on the best data at only one Individual per week. The Committee are nevertheless of opinion, that a few Inns may be established at the principal stages to Bangalore, with Farms attached to them, but they have not been able to select competent Individuals for this purpose.

With the view of enlarging the Society's operations, the Committee had established a Bakery, but as very little practical utility was found to result from its being conducted by the Association, the concern has lately been transferred to private hands, with the apprentices designed for the occupation, and the Committee indulge the hope, that it may yet prove the means of additional employment to East Indians. They are glad to add that no loss has been experienced in the undertaking.

Soon after the establishment of the Philanthropic Association, it was deemed desirable to consolidate with that Institution, the Apprenticing Society which had previously existed, as the former fully embraced the views and objects contemplated by the latter. A General Meeting of Subscribers to the two Institutions was accordingly convened, and a coalition took place on the terms annexed to this Report, (D.) by which it will be observed that the funded property of the Apprenticing Society transferred to the Philanthropic Association, amounting to Sicca Rupees 11,000, is to be held inviolable, and the interest accruing thereon, to be exclusively appropriated to the purpose for which it has been expressly collected by that Institution.

By this arrangement the Committee received charge of the Depôt established by the Apprenticing Society at Chindatrepettah, which they have found necessary to remove to Popham's Broad-way in the Black Town, that it may more conveniently receive the supervision of the Committee, and it is gratifying to add, that the Establishment is now somewhat better organized, and made more effective and useful than it was at the commencement. A person of moral character, a Carpenter by trade, is placed in Superintendence of the Establishment, imparting the knowledge of his profession to the boys under his charge, whilst the Depôt is brought into operation, by the construction of Camp Furniture, &c., to which the attention of the Public is invited. It is also intended, as time and means will allow, to instruct the Youths received on the Foundation of the Institution, in such other trades, as will enable them to find employment, if it be impracticable to apprentice them to Tradesmen and others at Madras, or establish them in some useful occupation in life.

The number of Boys transferred to the Apprenticing Branch of the Association in June 1830 was 11—since which 19 Boys have joined the establishment. Out of this number, 13 have accompanied the Settlers, who have proceeded to the Neilgherry and the Shervaroy Hills, three more have been apprenticed to Gentlemen who have proceeded to New South Wales, and 1 to M. D. Cockburn, Esq. at Salem, as Gardener, and there remain 12 Boys at present on the Establishment.

On referring to the Registers of the Apprenticing branch inserted in the Appendix, (E.) it will be seen, that from the commencement of the Apprenticing Society to the date of its union with the Association, 59 Boys were admitted to the benefits of that Institution, and since the coalition, it has afforded reception to a further number of 19 Candidates, so that on the whole there have been 78 Boys admitted on the establishment : of this number, 51 have been actually placed out as apprentices, who, but for the existence of such an Institution, would probably be left destitute of all means of earning a livelihood, and its increased utility, since becoming a branch of the Association, will be manifest, from the different channels now available for its operation. This will appear the more evident, when the present discouraging prospect of apprenticing youths to Tradesman at Madras is considered, arising as it does from the limited number of men engaged in business, as well as from their not being in most cases in want of additional apprentices. It is therefore consolatory to the Committee to think, that there are other means existing of affording employment, and which they hope will be commensurate with the rapidly increasing numbers of the rising generation.

It would be proper in this place to refer to an object which had for some time engaged the attention of the Committee, regarding the establishment of Farmers in the Low Lands in the vicinity of Madras. In order to encourage such an undertaking, the Committee were induced to comply with the application of an Individual, who possessed lands in the neighbourhood of the Presidency, for a loan of 1050 Rupees, for building a Cottage on his grounds, and for purchasing additional Lands for the purpose of settling as a Farmer. The re-payment of this loan is secured by the deposit of the Title Deeds of the Premises in question, but the Committee are unable to report the completion of this arrangement, as the individual has failed in carrying his plans into effect. To provide against disappointments of this nature, and to avoid any inconvenience being experienced from Grants being held from Native Proprietors, the Committee had it in contemplation to purchase the right of a Zemindar, that they might have the whole of the uncultivated lands in the Zemindary at their disposal. Accordingly some of the Members of the Committee were deputed to visit and report upon 2 Zemindaries in the Zillah of Chingleput, each containing several Villages, which were tendered to the Society for Sale.

The Committee were satisfied with the report received respecting one of the Zemindaries, but its purchase was suspended, in consequence of some doubts being entertained, as to the right of transfer to the Association, from the existence of a Regulation of Government, prohibiting the registry of Lands in the Names of the "Descendants of Europeans." It therefore became necessary to bring the subject to the notice of the Right Honorable the Governor, and from the reply to this reference which will be found in the Appendix, (F.) it will be seen that the restriction in question has been removed by Government. 11

vered, that the Title of the Zemindary in question was not clearly conveyable, the Committee have from this fact declined the purchase, nor do they regret the circumstance, as from the risk involved in the collection of the Revenue from the Native Ryots to discharge the Annual Kist to Government, and from the present state of the funds of the Society, they would gladly confine their attention to the Shervaroy and Nilgherry Hills, both of which afford ample scope for carrying the Agricultural views of the Association into effect.

The ulterior objects of the Association as they refer to a provision for Widows, and the establishment of a Seminary for the education of youth, remain to be effected, nor in the present condition of the Funds are they practicable; but the Committee hope their accomplishment may eventually take place, when the resources of the Association shall have improved sufficiently, to allow an appropriation being made specifically for these purposes.

In adverting to the contributions received by the Society, the Committee refer with satisfaction to the laudable exertions of those Individuals, who were instrumental in establishing Auxiliaries at Hyderabad and Masulipatam, which have made a large accession to the Funds of the Society, and they take this opportunity to record their grateful acknowledgments for the liberal donation of 500 Rupees, besides an annual Subscription, received from W. B. Martin, Esq. late British Resident at Hyderabad. While reference is made to these branches of the Association, it may be necessary to state, that the Hyderabad Auxiliary had endeavoured to obtain a Grant of Land from His Highness the Nizam ; but from the relative situation in which they would stand by accepting it as subjects of His Highness's Government, they were prevented from urging their application. The matter therefore appears to be under consideration, for the adoption of some measure, that will secure to the settlers the protection of the British Government, in the event of obtaining the desired Grant of Land.

At Masulipatam nothing has yet been commenced upon, but from the information which has reached the Committee, there appears to be every likelihood of the Auxiliary Branch at that station, becoming eventually instrumental in extending the operations of the Association.

An Abstract of the Receipts and Disbursements of the Society will be found in the Treasurers Account in the Appendix, (G.) exhibiting as follows.

of this Balance there has been invested in Company's Paper Sicca Rupees 12,500, besides the vested funds of the Apprenticing Branch which amount to Sicca Rupees 11,000.

A List of the actual collections made on account of the Society, including remittances received from the Auxiliary Branches, is annexed to this report. (H. & I.) A Donation received from His Highness the Rajah of Tanjore of 350 Rupees, is also included in the List, and although from His Highness's distinguished patronage of benevolent Institutions, such a mark of favor can be no matter of surprize, the Committee conceive it a duty incumbent on them simply to advert to the fact, in testimony of their feelings of gratitude for this act of benevolence towards the Institution.

And while the Committee have further to tender their unfeigned thanks to the Donors and Subscribers for their contributions to the Association, they trust that the restriction which has been imposed on their proceedings from the limited amount of the Funds placed at their disposal, will induce the Friends of the Institution whose Donations and Subscriptions have not yet been realized, to pay the same at an early date, that additional vigour may be given during the ensuing year, to the operations of the Association. The Donations and Subscriptions unrealized, the Committee extremely regret to observe, amount to almost 9,000 Rupees.

The Committee cannot conclude this Report, without recording their expressions of regret, for the loss of the valuable services of the Rev. Dr. Roy by his departure to England. They feel grateful for his ready and kind compliance with their request, in the acceptance of the office of President soon after the nomination of the Committee, and for the promptness with which he afforded them advice and assistance on all occasions. From his indefatigable and useful labours among the Community at Madras, and especially from the interest he invariably evinced, in forwarding every plan that had for its object the amelioration of the condition of East Indians, the Committee feel, that in thus recording their admiration of his character and their regret at his separation from them, they express the unanimous feelings of a large portion of that Community, who must ever cherish with gratitude, a lively remembrance of the benefits they have derived from his unwearied exertions for their welfare.

Previous to Dr. Roy's departure, he was kindly pleased to transmit to the Society, a few Books and Pamphlets, being part of a Parcel received from the Rev. Dr. Bell, the original Superintendent of the Military Male Orphan Asylum, and which were contributed as the foundation of a Library, to be formed by charitable grant of Books from the friends of the Institution. The letter received from Dr. Roy on this occasion will be found in the Appendix, (J) and the Committee are happy to add, that additional contributions have since been made by others, and the whole are deposited in the Society's House in the Black Town. These laudable examples it is hoped, will be generously imitated, so that the Association may be enabled, in course of time, to present an extensive Library to the Public.

The Committee having now submitted a brief statement of their Proceedings since the Establishment of the Society, feel some gratification on a review of them, in reflecting, that amidst all the discouragements and difficulties by which they were surrounded, they have in some measure realized the expectations which the Friends of the Institution may have formed.—The amelioration contemplated must be the work of time, and every effort thus made, will doubtless accelerate the accomplishment, by gradually effecting a radical change in the habits and pursuits of the people, whom the Association is designed to benefit. With this conviction, and in humble dependance on Divine Providence for the successful result of their undertaking, the Committee conclude their Report, respectfully soliciting on behalf of the Institution, the continued support and patronage of that Public, by whose benevolence the Madras Philanthropic Association has been established.

APPEAL.

It is not without diffidence that the Managing Committee of the above Institution appear before the Public, to solicit their aid for accomplishing the objects which it contemplates.

It was originated by a pressing conviction of the complicated disadvantages to which the Descendants of Europeans are subjected; and with a view to improve their condition, by furnishing suitable means of employment, and competent sources of support.

It would involve a reflection upon the Public of this Presidency to apologize for a well-founded Appeal to their distinguished benevolence; and the Committee beg most respectfully to present a simple statement of the circumstances connected with the origin of the Philanthropic Association, convinced that its character and claims will be duly appreciated and liberally supported.

That there is a necessity for the adoption of measures for ameliorating the condition of the Descendants of Europeans, and that their present occupations are not sufficiently diversified or important to admit of prosperity, is evident to all who have information, judgment, and feeling on the subject: nor can it be denied that this neoessity is daily becoming more imperative. The interests of this class of the Community have not been indifferently regarded by Government: additional sources of employment in the Public Service have been indulgently rendered accessible to them, and the Committee have the highest authority for asserting, that the subject still presses itself on the attention of Government.

Under that Public Patronage which is now solicited, Plans, specific, in their object, but contracted in their agency, and (as the event has proved) objectionable in some of their peculiarities, have been benevolently originated and supported for the advantage of this Community but on account of their limited success, it was urgently necessary to form an Association, combining, so far as practicable, their entire energies, and designing their corporate good.

The Colonization Fund in one of the Provinces of Bengal, and the Amelioration Fund at Bombay, have been established for the laudable purpose of furnishing new sources of employment to the Descendants of Europeans under those Presidencies; and the characteristic of both, so far as it is developed, is the encouragement of Agricultural pursuits. It is not irrelevent to observe that these Institutions have received a most decided sanction from the enlightened and liberal Government of each Presidency, and that the public have indicated a corresponding liberality. Under a conviction that a similar Institution at Madras, with the same patriotic objects in view, would not be discountenanced, this Association has been formed; and the Committee cannot omit to record their gratitude to His Excellency the Governor, and the other high authorities of this Presidency, for the very auspicious manner in which their projected plans have been encouraged.* Every facility which can be consistently afforded by the Government has been promised; and it is presumed that this consideration will inspire the confidence and secure the support of the Public, some lanottobe : tosagresso and vine

To the occupations of Husbandry it is the primary object of this Association to direct the attention of the Descendants of Europeans, as they are calculated to occupy the greatest number of persons, and to furnish resources from their own labor, on good soil, adequate to the support of a Family or a Community, fearless of any contingency but that of unfavorable seasons, and without material dependence on external assistance. In addition to them it is designed that the Association shall supply facilities for propagating useful arts and trades and the Committee will not fail to exercise their best discretion in availing themselves of such opportunities as may offer, for the early accomplishment of this part of the Plan.

• The Committee refer with pleasure to the annexed Letter from the private Secretary to the Right Honorable the Governor.

Discouraged by deficiency of employment and native competition, many of the Descendants of Europeans have been trained up in ignorance of the common elements of knowledge; others have been left to the desolation of widowhood, without any provision for themselves and fatherless children; and some have contracted the offensive habit of mendicity. It is proposed to remedy the first of these evils by furnishing to the rising race, such Educational advantages as the resources of the Association will afford : the second, by the appropriation of such part of the Funds as may be disposable for that purpose; and the last by the encouragement of Integrity and Industry.

The Committee wish it to be understood that, however confidently ultimate success may be anticipated, they do not expect general improvement immediately to result from their plans.—Past experience, and a knowledge of existing circumstances induce them to apprehend difficulties: nevertheless they are not discouraged; and they hope under the auspices of the British Community, crowned with the benediction of Providence, to be instrumental by this Association, in mitigating the sufferings, and in contributing to the prosperity of the Descendants of Europeans.

Powerfully impressed with the responsibility involved in an undertaking which seeks the natural, moral, and political good of an entire community; and highly estimating the value of information from men of practical experience in political economy, agricultural management, and mechanical operations, the Committee venture to solicit from the Public at large, and from their Countrymen resident in the Provinces, such communications of sentiment and fact, as may serve the interests of the Association. Much advantage is also anticipated from an interchange of correspondence with kindred Institutions in the other Presidencies, by virtue of which the wisdom and experience of each will become the property of all.

In attempting the accomplishment of the Plans stated in this address, the Committee pledge themselves inflexibly to adhere to the principle, " that in proportion " as men are rendered intelligent and industrious, they " will become prosperous, virtuous and happy;" and with this pledge they beg respectfully to close their Appeal to the liberality of the Public, in behalf of the objects contemplated by the Madras Philanthropic Association.

Madras, 10th December, 1829.

To

MR. J. CHAMIER,

Secretary to the Madras Philanthropic Association.

SIR,

I had yesterday the pleasure to inform you that the Right Honorable the Governor in compliance with the wishes of your Committee accepted the office of Patron to your Society, and to convey to you his best wishes for your success--He is gratified to observe that the suggestions which he offered to your Deputies, have received the special attention of your Committee, and he has no doubt that the substance of his suggestions has been correctly represented. But to prevent future misapprehension the Governor has directed me to repeat to you in this manner, the motives which have led him to encourage your purposes, and the principles by which he thinks you ought to be guided in carrying them into execution.

I am therefore directed to acquaint you for the information of the Society that although the Governor continued to watch the progress and objects of your meeting, with an anxious desire for their success he purposely abstained from interfering with the proceedings of the Association until the Deputies waited on him to solicit his assistance.

To an infant Community like yours any aid granted without Solicitation and before you had yourselves shewn spontaneous and ardent desire to receive it would have created unreasonable Hopes and Pretentions, more likely to retard, than to accelerate those vigorous and well directed exertions of your own industry, upon which, all your success will ultimately depend.

But now that you have come of your own accord, and in a respectable Body for assistance in a pursuit where it may be given with every Prospect of benefit to your Community, with safety to the State, and with justice to the Native Population, it will afford the Governor sincere pleasure to extend to you, all the aid and Protection in his Power.

The Governor sees no possible objection to the occupation by your Brethren of Lands, of which they may duly acquire the right of Cultivation in any part of these Territories: The Law sanctions their having landed Possessions: The Provincial Courts will protect them in the peaceable enjoyment of every just Right, and will restrain them from acts of oppression upon others.

The Places where you may first settle will require mature consideration, in order to prevent failure and disappointment. Considering that most of you are of the Blood and of the religion of Englishmen, and that all of you have a knowledge of the English language, The Governor thinks one of your first places of settlement should be the Neilgherries where there are no prejudices of religion to excite that worst species of contention and where the extraordinary healthfulness of the climate, and large unoccupied tracts of highly fertile soil, present such peculiar advantages. Having himself resided there for some time the Governor speaks with knowledge on the subject, when he declares that he does not believe there is a place in the whole habitable world more likely to reward the labours of an agricultural settler, or where he may live with more comfort and happiness if properly equipped and established, than in that beautiful Region of Mountains and Vallies.

There are large tracts of fertile Land that have never been broken up by man's Hand, and the occupation of a sufficient quantity may be obtained for a Price comparatively low, and without fear of quarrel or the commission of injustice. There is abundance of wood for every purpose of habitation and warmth; the air and the water are of the purest quality; and the Mountains are surrounded by the fruitful grain and cattle Countries of Coimbatore and Mysore, and the magnificent Forests of Malabar. The vicinity of that coast and the means of water carriage which the Calicut river affords will not only facilitate the access of settlers to the Hills, on that side, but enable them to export the products of their skill and industry, with safety, cheapness and expedition. The other lofty ranges of hills to the southward, the Pynee and Vadagherry, as far as their peculiarities are known, very much resemble the Neilgherries in Climate, and other Geographical Characteristics and as they are explored will in all probability be found to promise similar advantages to the settler.

Though the Governor points out the Neilgherries for your consideration, it must rest with yourselves to make your own selection—Wherever you may determine to employ your industrious fellow Countrymen, his private contribution of a thousand Rupees is cheerfully given to aid them in their first Establishment.

The point which the Governor is especially desirous of impressing upon you in the strongest manner since he feels that upon it all the promised hopes of your success depend, is the necessity of caution in selecting the persons who are to make the first experiment. No person should in the first instance be sent into the interior that is not remarkable for his steady, sober, and intelligent habits, for a natural love of the pursuit in which he is to embark, either as Farmer, Gardener, or Mechanic, and above all, for his freedom from Enthusiastic notions on the subject of religion.

If these precautions be observed there is every reason to hope, with the blessing of providence upon the benevolent endeavours of your Association, that you will reap a rich harvest of success in the Neilgherries and in other parts of these territories. Nor are these opinions new to the Governor. Thirty years ago he recommended the experiment in the province of Tinnevelly on behalf of a most respectable and intelligent person who is still happily a living example to your Community and to the Government of the private and public benefit to be derived from agricultural pursuits when skilfully and honorably conducted.

In conclusion, the Governor desires me to recommend, that, if you have any further occasion for advice or assistance, you will communicate the details of your wants to him, through me, in order that when they shall have been fully examined, they may be brought before the Government for their consideration.

SIR,

To

The accompanying Bock are half of a small pareceived from the Rev. Dr. Bell, first Superintendant is the Military Male Asylum. The Manuscript inscription by the esteemed Author shows what are his intentions, and I know not in what manner I can better fulfil them than by requesting the Association (among the Subscribers to which are so many of Dr. Bell's pupils) to receive charge of the books as the commencement of a Library to be formed of contributions from persons willing to promote so desirable an object.

I have reserved the remaining half of the Books for the Library of this Institution.

> Believe me, Your's faithfully, (Signed) W. ROY. Supt. M. M. Asylum.
