From Sri H. K. Ghazi, I.A.S., Director of Fisheries, Madras-2, to the Secretary to Government, Food and Agriculture Department, Madras-9, dated 20th July 1961, Rc. No. 38636 D-2/60.

[Fisheries—Pearl Fishery off Tuticorin—During March to May 1960—General Report—Submitted.]

The general report on the Pearl Fishery Operations during March to May 1960 is appended.

APPENDIX.

REPORT ON THE PEARL FISHERY CONDUCTED AT TUTICORIN DURING MARCH-MAY 1960.

I. Introduction.—This pearl fishery is the sixth in the present series of Pearl Fishery which commenced in 1955. The fishery was declared open on 16th March 1960 and it lasted till 7th May 1960.

II. Pearl bank inspection.—The pearl bank inspection was undertaken to assess the age of the pearl oysters in the various banks and to estimate the total population of the fishable oysters. The inspection was commenced on 20th November 1959 and stopped on 28th November 1959 due to unfavourable weather conditions. Further inspection on days of favourable weather conditions could not be conducted due to engine repairs of M.F.V. 'Goharkhaleeli' which was being utilized for the inspection. The vessel was commissioned again after repairs only on 3rd February 1960 and the inspection of pearl banks was continued till 18th February 1960. The inspection was concentrated on Tholayiram paar and other adjacent banks. The inspection of the southern banks (via) "Karuval" and "Poonthottam" group of paars, could not be undertaken for want of anchorage facilities and adverse weather conditions. However, the inspection of these banks was taken up during the course of the pearl fishery operations to find out the presence or absence of the oysters left over after the pearl fishery operations in 1959. In spite of extensive search over the entire area, even a single mature oyster could not be obtained; in fact the whole area was thickly covered over with very young oysters about a few weeks old in age. These oysters will be available for commercial exploitation only in 1963 or 1964, if they survive through the intervening years.

Out of the total thirteen pearl banks including Tholayiram paar that were inspected only five contained oysters and even among these only Tholayiram paar and Koothadiar paar contained fishable oysters. The final estimate of 220 lakhs of fishable oysters was arrived at taking into consideration the probable availability of oysters in Karuval and Poonthottam paars, seven lakhs and that available in Koothadiar paar, 13 lakhs and that in Tholayiram paar, 200 lakhs. The Tholayiram paar is an extensive one with an area of about seven square miles comprising of many small rocky areas with the independent names interspersed with sandy tracts. The Tholayiram paar includes rocky areas known as Othakal, Pasimadhi and Janmadhi which were exploited under their names during the course of the pearl fishery.

The oysters in Tholayiram paar were found attached to dead coral rocks or flat rocky pieces and there was also a good growth of the weeds in the entire area.

The estimation of the fishable population in the different banks were based to some extent on the observations made during the under-water survey carried out by the Food and Agriculture Organization Expert, Dr. F. B. Salvadori, and his counterparts in 1959.

III. Target of receipts and catches.—Before the commencement of the pearl fishery inspection of the following pearl banks was conducted:—

- (1) Nagarai paar,
- (2) Utti paar,
- (3) Uduruvi paar,
- (4) Kilathi paar,
- (5) Vadavonbathu paar,
- (6) Saithonbathu paar,
- (7) Aathonbooth paar,
- (8) Pasi paar,
- (9) Pulipundi paar,
- (10) Koothadiar paar,
- (11) Cruxian paar.
- (12) Cruxian Thundu paar, and
- (13) Tholayiram paar.

As a result of the inspection of Tholayiram paar (south) and Koothadiar paar alone were found thickly populated with mature and fishable oysters. Towards the close of the last pearl fishery Poonthottam paar was left with abundance of mature oysters. This was taken into consideration and a total number of seven lakhs of oysters was fixed as target for Poonthottam and Karuval paars together. However, subsequent inspection conducted in these banks during the course of the pearl fishery operations revealed that no mature oysters had survived and that only immature oysters, a few were old in age, were present in abundant numbers. The pearls obtained from the oysters lifted during the pearl bank inspections were got valued by the pearl merchants of Tuticorin and Kilakarai.

A copy of the valuation statement is enclosed herewith. As desired by the Government the valuation was treated confidential with a view to get maximum price for Government share of oysters in the daily auction sale of oysters.

Preliminary arrangements.—To allocate specific duties to the staff a meeting was convened on the eve of the pearl fishery in the Fisheries Training Centre premises. This enabled the staff to exchange views on the conduct of the pearl fishery based on the experience gained in the previous years. A list of staff and the details of duties allocated to them are given in Annexure.

IV. Pearl fishery camp.—As the pearl fishery camp arrangements of last year proved effective the pearl camp arrangements for the current pearl fishery also were made on the same pattern. As usual tenders were called, for the erection of pandal and temporary sheds in the pearl camp and the lowest was accepted. A total sum of Rs. 3,873.86 nP. was paid to the tenderer as hire charges for 54 days.

The work of the temporary electrification of the pearl camp was entrusted to Messrs. Agfa Traders, Tuticorin. This item of work included provision of 100 Nos. of incandecent lamps, 20 Nos. of tube lights, 3 Nos. of search lights, 8 Nos. of serial sets and one mike with two speakers.

The numbers of the above items were restricted to the day-to-day needs of the fishery. A sum of Rs. 1,058.62 nP. was paid to the contractor on this account.

According to the terms of the agreement the pearl merchants themselves should arrange to provide electric lighting within their stalls in the pearl camp at their cost, paying the electricity consumption charges to the department. A sum of Rs. 460 was realized by way of electricity consumption charges from the merchants.

V. Pearl bazaar.—Forty-two stalls of 30 feet by 12 feet each were put up in the pearl bazaar. The sale of sites for these stalls fetched a revenue of Rs. 26,502. The ground rent for milk stall, tea stall, etc., amounted to Rs. 1,981. The maximum bid for a single stall was Rs. 800 and the minimum was Rs. 521.

Thotties.—The oyster washing thottis were located as usual in the beach opposite to the chank godown in the unsurveyed land north of T.S. No. 5849, Ward No. 4. Forty-one sites measuring 36 feet by 36 feet each were marked and auctioned. A total rental of Rs. 5,181 was realized on this account. The maximum and minimum bids being Rs. 213 and Rs. 43 respectively. The thotti sites were provided with petromax lights.

VI. Provision of water-supply.—Arrangements were made with the local municipality for drawing the day-to-day requirements of drinking water. A 500-gallon capacity drum was got from the municipality on hire and installed within the pearl camp for storing drinking water. But in the middle of the fishery this was withdrawn by the municipality. Consequently forty-gallon drums were kept filled with water in several places to provide water to the divers, merchants and the general public.

VII. Registration of boats and divers.—Since 1955 the year of first pearl fishery in the present series the number of divers who got registered for diving was steadily increasing year by year. Even at the beginning of the chank fishery all the divers got themselves registered with the cherished hope of a pearl fishery. During the days between the closure of the chank fishery and the commencement of the pearl fishery alone 206 divers got themselves registered. The total number of divers and canoes registered were 1,821 and 150 respectively.

VIII. Gunnies and lead seals.—A total number of 5,700 new gunnies and 3,000 second-hand gunnies were purchased for the pearl fishery. Seventeen thousand lead seals and 400 lb. of jute twine were also purchased. In addition to the above 2,800 new gunnies and 2,024 second-hand gunnies relating to the East Coast Salt Transport were also utilised for the pearl fishery.

As usual gunnies with "D.S." monogram were issued to the divers periodically. Used gunnies on return from the divers were got washed and used again. Gunnies were also sold with oysters to buyers. A sum of Rs. 3,872.51 nP. towards the cost of 3,800 gunnies was realized from the merchants.

IX. Publicity.—Declaration notices both in English and Tamil were distributed to all pearl merchants and were arranged to be exhibited in the notice boards of all Government offices and local bodies. An abridged form of the declaration notice was published in the leading dailies like 'The Hindu', 'The Dinamani', 'The Dinamalar', 'The Nava Bharat', 'The Times of India' and 'The Hindustan Times'. The information on the daily catches, the rate of Government share of oysters, and the rate of the divers' share of oysters was arranged to be broadcast through the All-India Radio, Tiruchirappalli. Cinema slides announcing the date of the commencement of the pearl fishery were exhibited in selected cinema theatres in Tuticorin, Thanjavur, Nagercoil, Cuddalore, Madurai, Mettur Dam, Madras and Bombay. The abbreviated telegraphic address 'OYSTERS' was got registered to facilitate easy communications during the pearl fishery.

All the forms and registers required for the pearl fishery were got printed locally at a total cost of Rs. 395.27 nP.

X. Vehicles.—Benz van MSX 7539 and jeep MSX 1619 were utilized for the pearl fishery. The number of miles done, etc., by them are furnished in this Annexure.

XI. Medicines and disinfectants.—Ten gallons of pyrethrum, 143 lb. of bleaching powder and 18 baskets of chunam were purchased and issued to the Public Health Departmental Unit in the pearl camp for the day-to-day use.

Arrangements were made with the local municipality to get the members of the staff and divers inoculated against cholera.

XII. Police.—The pearl camp was provided with a temporary police station with the contingent of one Sub-Inspector of Police, two head constables and 12 constables. Their services were utilised for maintaining law and order within the camp in general and to check smuggling of oysters and pearls by unscrupulous divers. Apart from this each launch was provided with a constable to restore order during sharing of oysters on board the vessels. In cases of emergency, the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Tuticorin, made arrangements to send the required number of Special Armed Police.

XIII. Post office.—The temporary Post office functioned in the pearl camp was very helpful to the foreign divers.

XIV. Medical department.—A new feature of the Medical Unit was the provision of first-aid equipment on board the departmental vessel with one nursing orderly. During the pearl fishery cases of stings by scorpion fish were very frequent and the victims were taken to the departmental launch by means of the Training Centre boats and treated on board. Cases of minor injuries were also treated at sea. The Medical Unit consisting of one pharmacist and one nursing orderly attended to cases of serious injuries on shore.

XV. Public health.—The absolute necessity for maintaining the sanitary conditions of the pearl camp was all the more important in view of the large diving population numbering 1,800, the staff, pearl merchants and the visitors. The sanitary staff consisting of one Health Inspector, two maistries, one entomologist, 12 sweepers and six scavengers and six mazdoors, maintained the Thotti premises, Kottu and pearl camp clean and tidy and sprayed disinfectants every day.

XVI. Customs and Port Department.—The local Customs and Port authorities extended their co-operation to the full extent in providing berthing facilities to the launches and in permitting the movement of oyster bags from out of the pier at any time.

XVII. Progress of the operation.—On 17th March 1960 the first day of operation the divers did not participate in the fishery. It was later ascertained that they felt aggrieved by the treatment meted out to the office bearers of the Chank Divers' Union in not allowing any of them to make speeches on the inaugural day. However the first day's operations were conducted with the four departmental divers. They lifted a total number of 3,663 oysters in Tholayiram paar, which fetched a revenue of Rs. 543. The price of oysters on the first day ranged between Rs. 14 and Rs. 16 per 100 oysters.

On the second day a total number of 1,637 divers participated, voluntarily. The particulars of number of canoes, number of divers, participated in the fishery, total catches, Government share of oysters, etc., are furnished in Annexure.

The first week's operations were confined to Tholayiram paar when the price of Government share of oysters ranged between Rs. 17 and Rs. 41 per 1,000 oysters and that of the divers' share at 40 to 70 oysters per rupee. By the end of the first week the merchants ascertained the pearl contents of the oysters of the bank and the divers also were not satisfied with the price they got for their share of oysters. Consequently there was clamour from both the merchants and divers for a change of bank. This resulted in a break in the pearl fishery on the 7th day of operation. However, the services of the departmental divers were utilized to lift the maximum number of oysters for sale that day from Oothakkal paar which is part of Tholayiram paar. From the following day this paar was exploited and this paar yielded fairly good results. After five days' operations on this paar the operations were shifted to Pasimadi paar. This was exploited for eight days and yielded 3,072,577 oysters. Koothadiar paar served as a buffer for six days till 19th April 1960 when Janmadhi paar was pitched upon. The average price of oyster of Tholayiram paar shot up as high as Rs. 35.87 nP. per 1,000. But this may be attributed to the reputation it had in the 1955 and 1956 pearl fishery. Koothadiar paar though sparsely populated and oysters with pearl contents of average value. Therefore the average price of 1,000 oysters went up as high as Rs. 30.48 nP. and it never went below Rs. 18.33 nP. per 1,000 oysters.

Janmadhi paar allowed 16 days of continuous operation and yielded a total number of 4,379,079 oysters.

The fishery came to a close on 7th May 1960. Thus the fishery lasted for 52 days excluding non-fishing days and other public holidays including Sundays. There were only 42 pearling days. On the 24th day of fishing three canoes with a complement of 29 divers went for fishing in spite of the heavy rains in the morning and the cloudy weather throughout the day.

The maximum number of canoes and divers that participated in the fishery were 150 and 1,821 respectively. The maximum and minimum catch for a single day's operation were 690,462 and 5,780 respectively. The total number of oysters fished during the entire fishery was 15,790,706 against the target of 22,000,000. The shortfall in the number of oysters fished can be attributed to the following factors. Tholayiram paar is the biggest in extent and was very thickly populated.

During the inspection of this paar divers brought as many as 13 oysters per dive on an average and at some places the maximum number of oysters lifted per dive was 50. Relying on this the target was fixed at 200 lakhs. But unfortunately the pearl contents of the oysters were reported to be not up to the mark. Consequently exploitation of the South Central area of the bank had to be abandoned abruptly.

Even during the pearl fishery of 1,959 the Poonthottam paar was found with heaps of dead shells. Towards the close of the last pearl fishery the abundance of fully matured oysters left untouched was detected. However the oysters due to age had had a natural death before exploitation during 1960. Consequently the bank was found bare of mature oysters. The only redeeming feature seen on the banks is there had been heavy spat-fall in this region which holds prospects for future fisheries.

The revenue to the department also fell short of the anticipated amount. A total revenue of Rs. 4,67,200 at Rs. 32 per 1,000 oysters was anticipated. But throughout the fishery the average price for Government share of oysters touched the anticipated limit only on two days. On more than ten days the average price for Government share of oysters was less than half of the price anticipated. On all other days the sale of oysters fetched a very poor return. Added to this the Government share of oyster fell short of the target by lakhs. Thus the total revenue by sale of oysters amounted to Rs. 2,15,266.88 nP. only.

XVIII. Auction sale of Government share of oysters.—The Government share of oysters were sold in public auction at 8 p.m. daily in lots of 1,000 oysters ordinarily. When the catches were limited they were sold in lots of 100 oysters. Excepting on 18th, 23rd, 30th, 31st March and 9th, 11th, 16th April and 6th May the entire catches were disposed of after the day's operations were over.

As usual the oysters were put in gunny bags and six of such bags weighed and their average weight adopted for counting the share of Government oysters daily. But in the middle of the fishery there were frequent complaints from the merchants about shortage in the number of oysters. This has happened due to disproportionate number of dead shells and the abnormal quantity of debris found mixed up with the oysters. To avoid such complaints the oysters were counted with the help of mazdoors, till the closure of the fishery. But for the moderate daily catches this would not have been feasible. The sale of Government share of oysters fetched a total revenue of Rs. 2,15,266.88 nP. Total number of oysters, Government share, total sale proceeds and the average value of 1,000 oysters are furnished below:—

Name of the banks (paars) operated.	Total of oysters.	Government share of oysters.	Total sale proceeds.	Average value per 1,000 oysters.
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)
			RS.
1 Tholayirem paar	15,790,706	10,552,841	2,15,266.83	Ranged from Rs. 18-33 to Rs. 30-48
2 Othakkal paar
3 Koothadiar paar
4 Janmadhi paar
5 Pasimadhi paar
6 Pulipundi paar

XIX. Violation of rules by divers.—Even before commencement of the chank fishery of 1959-60 the sammattis and divers were cautioned against illicit diving for pearl oysters and its consequences. In complying with the request of the divers Tholayiram paar was buoyed and diving was prohibited in this buoyed area. The Departmental vessel 'Gohar Khaleeli' accompanied the chank canoes daily to the chank beds. In addition to this the patrolling staff went on board the Training Centre boat stationed themselves near the Kaswar Island and made all the chank canoes sail away from the direction of the pearl banks. Instead of chasing them on the banks this preventive method proved very effective.

Just before the commencement of the pearl fishery the divers and sammattis were appraised of the rules and regulations to be observed during the pearl fishery with special reference to concealment of oysters from getting them shared, cutting of oysters and removing pearls stealthily. They were also supplied with a booklet on Rules and Conduct during the Pearl Fishery. During the fishery the pearling canoes and the personal belongings of the divers were thoroughly checked both at sea after the closure of the day to day operations and on the shore as soon as the canoes touched the shore. Compared with last year's account the number of cases of illicit removal of pearls before sharing was very low. Carats of pearls could be confiscated last year, but this year the divers adopted a new tactics of smuggling oysters. Divers of different pearling canoes combined themselves in this 'operation'. But this was promptly detected as the approximate size of the sealed bags is noted on the Return permits of the shared canoes by the afloat staff and such bags were checked by the shore staff.

A few cases of concealed bags were also detected and sixty-five bags were confiscated to the Government. A total number of 33,274 oysters were seized from the divers for contravening the rules and confiscated to the Government.

XX. Departmental divers.—The services of the four departmental divers were solely utilised for locating areas thickly populated with oysters and flagging the same for the day to operation. They collected 43,838 oysters which works out Rs. 937.70 nP. at the Pearl Fishery average rate of Rs. 21.94 nP. per 1,000 oysters.

XXI. Accidents in the sea.—I am glad to record there was no loss of life during the pearl fishery.

XXII. Pearl market.—The pearl market was dominated by the local merchants only. These merchants whether they owned thottis or collected all grades of pearls from divers as well as the public, finally disposed the pearls at the end of the fishery in the Bombay Pearl Market.

XXIII. Launches and towage.—Government were pleased to sanction the hiring of the following private launches for the conduct of the pearl fishery in G.O. Ms. No. 1134, Food and Agriculture, dated 23rd March 1960:—

(1) Jamaliah of Sri A.M.S.S.V.M. & Co., Chank Merchants, Kilakarai.

(2) Islamiah of Sri A.M.S.S.V.M. & Co., Chank Merchants, Kilakarai.

A separate report about the utilisation of these vessels has been submitted to Government in my letter No. 8605 D2/60, dated 6th October 1960 and 10th January 1961 (Government file No. 93656 EI/60).

XXIV. Conclusion.—The magnitude of the pearl fishery can well be judged by the number of divers who participated. But for the unstinted co-operation extended by one and all the task would have been very difficult to accomplish.

Sri B. Krishnamoorthy, Superintendent, Fisheries Training Centre and Sri S. T. Chari, Superintendent, Fisheries Technological Station were equally responsible for the smooth conduct of the fishery.

Sri D. D. Peter Devadoss, was the Director of Fisheries. He was the controlling authority throughout the fishery. Sri V. D. Spurgeon, Deputy Director of Fisheries (Marine) was camping at Tuticorin throughout the fishery as the Chief Superintendent of the pearl fishery.

Sri S. Varadarajan, Deputy Director of Fisheries (Inland) was the Chief Superintendent for a few days intermittently.

Special mention must be made about the valuable services of the staff of the Police, Medical, Custom, Port, Public Health and Postal Departments, in connection with the conduct of the pearl fishery.

Order—No. 4220, Food and Agriculture, dated 15th December 1961.

The report of the pearl fishery operations at Tuticorin in Tirunelveli district during March–May 1960 submitted by the Director of Fisheries is recorded with the following remarks :—

(i) The report has been submitted by the Director of Fisheries after a long delay of over one year;

(ii) The number of pearl oysters fished and the receipts realised were far below the estimate. It is considered that pearl bank inspection and the selection of Paars for operation should be made in a more accurate way so as to ensure that all paars which contain mature oysters are included for the Pearl fishery operations and that stock of oysters are not allowed to die without being exploited. The Director of Fisheries, Madras, is requested to examine the position and submit a detailed report in the matter on the procedure to be followed in this regard. While submitting the pearl bank inspection report for the conduct of pearl fishery operations in 1962, the Director of Fisheries is requested to furnish a list of all known paars—with their sections indicated—the year in which pearl fishing operations were conducted at those paars, the year in which they were inspected, the condition of pearl oysters and the difficulties if any in the inspection or exploitation of these paars.

(iii) The fisheries on the whole was satisfactory with a net revenue of Rs. 1,62,438.

2. This order issues with the concurrence of Finance Department—Vide their U.O. No. 119934 (a)/Accounts/61-1, dated 8th November 1961.
