- From the* — Explaining that the Board were informed by the Sub-Collector in charge of Madura of the total failure of the season and that it was advisable that employment should be provided for the poorer classes of inhabitants on tank repairs and proposed a more than usually large outlay for that purpose, that after the principal Collector returned to the district, his sentiments were requested on the subject and that he agreed on the propriety of Mr. Wroughton's proposition and had acted upon to a certain extent. That the repairs entered in the estimate are of an ordinary nature and that the estimate differs in no respect from former ordinary estimates except in its amount for which the Board think there is sufficient reason that the expected increase in the revenue is on the usual revenue but explains that the whole increase promised on such occasions is seldom realized, that the only irregularity is in the late period at which the estimate has been received which the Board regret but that every endeavour has been made to obtain the estimates at the earliest practicable period and explains that it is necessary from the peculiar nature of the duty to leave much to the discretion of Collectors and not to confine them on all occasions too strictly to rules. That the Board did not expect the whole sum would be disbursed but applied for the sanction of the whole in order that full employment might be given to the people. Cons., 26th Sep., No. 23, p. 2848
