

Sure Woman's to be pitied, Sung by Mrs Dickon's, at the Theatre Royal Covent Garden, in the
FREE KNIGHTS or the Edict of Charlemagne, Composed by J. Mazzinghi.

SPRIGHTLY

Sure woman's to be pitied when-ever she's committed For being fond and gay. And those who cry out shame Are very much to blame are ve--ry much to blame That's all I say they're ve--ry much to blame That's all I say That's all I say That's - - - all I say. I never could dis-cover Why listning to a lover Throughout the live long day Should be miscall'd offence It is not common sense It is not common sense That's all I say It is not common sense That's all I say That's all I say That's all I say But f

Dol

though the old and haughty Pre-tend'tis very naughty They think a diff'rent way For this I know is true They do as o-thers do They do as others do That's all I say They do as o-thers do That's all I say That's all I say That's ----- all I say.