CORRESPONDENCE.

Prefatory to the detail of Intelligence lately received from Bombay, and which confirms the whole of what we had the pleasure of laying before our READERS, in our last COURIER; we have made due acknowledgement to the source from which it was derived; we have now to add our further acknowledgements to the EDITOR of the BOMBAY GAZETTE, for several interesting, and additional Paragraphs inserted in our Paper of this day.

THE COURIER.

MADRAS—MARCH 25, 1795.

THE PACKETS for the Honorable Company's ships, the PITT, THETIS, and MELVILLE CASTLE, were despatched from the Council House at Calcutta, on the 10th Instant.

Reports have been in circulation for some days past, of an action having taken place between the Mahratah Army, and that of his Highness the Nizam, the latter was said to have been defeated with great slaughter — no particulars, on which dependence could be placed, have yet transpired.

We have the pleasure to inform our READERS that the next MOUNT ASSEMBLY will be held on Friday the 27th Instant.

His Majesty's ship CENTURION, Capt. Osborne, arrived at Trincomallie, on the 20th instant.

Private letters are said to have been received, which state that Admiral SIR ALAN GARDNER, with a Squadron of His Majesty's ships under his command, had sailed from Portsmouth for the East Indies.

CAPTAIN MCDONALD of the 73d regt. is a passenger for England, on the Honorable Company's ship the Queen, and Lieut. Turnour of the same corps, on the Rockingham, for this Presidency.

The Mercury Sugar ship, was despatched from Bengal for England, on the 7th, and the LADY SHORE on the 10th Instant. — The remaining Extra ships, are to be despatched direct for England, so soon as their respective cargoes may be completed.

His Majesty's ship the Resistance, sailed from Bombay for Madras, on the 26th of February.

The ships Anne, Captain Gilmore, Canton, Captain Grainger, and Ann, Captain Haigs, are arrived at Colombo.

CAPTAIN BRUCE of the Bengal Military, is appointed to the command of the 2d regiment of Cavalry on that establishment.

SIR ROBERT ABERCROMBY arrived at Calcutta on the 10th instant, from his late successful expedition against the Rohillas.

COMPANY'S CREDIT—The Debts at the Presidencies of Madras, and Bombay, which on the 31st of January, 1792, amounted collectively to about Two Hundred and Twenty Lacks of Current Rupees, stood reduced on the 31st of January, 1795, to about Seventy Lacks of Current Rupees; exhibiting in the course of three years of peace, a decrease of about one hundred and fifty lacks of the Principal, exclusively of a reduction of the Interest upon the remaining debt, from twelve, ten, nine and a half, and eight per cent. to six per cent. per annum, which is the highest rate of interest now payable by the Company.

EXTRACT of Letter, Cochin, 10th March.

"The ships SURPRISE, SUCCESS, and "GENEROUS FRIENDS, belonging to the "Nabob of the Carnatic, are arrived here, "under convoy of the SWIFT Sloop of "War,—they had a pleasant, jovial passage; "the weather permitting the Commanders "to dine with each other, almost every day "of it—I am sorry to add that the Old Success is very leaky, but as she is past "her Grand Climacteric, tis not to be wonder'd at—they are taking in part of her "cargoe, in order to give her a parliament "heel, and I suppose will all be ready for "Sea in a few days."

Extract of a letter dated Batavia 10th November 1794.

"Should you ever revisit this place, I am persuaded you would hardly know it again almost all the Canels, in the town have been filled up, the trees cut down, swarshes all drained, and the underwood cleared away, by direction of the Commissioners, which admits of a freer circulation of air, and must add much to the salubrity of the settlement indeed in some few years more, I should not be surprised at hearing of valuindinarians, taking a trip to Batavia for the benefit of their health.

The GLASGOW, Captain Arthur, and the ANN and ELIZA, Captain Haldane, sailed from Calcutta for Madras, on the 5th Instant.

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE.

MARCH 18, 1795.

G. O. By Government,

The following Promotions to take place.

Ensign Henry Francis Smith to be Lieutenant vice Keay on leave to Europe.

Ensign John Henry Slingsby to be Lieutenant, vice Shadwell on leave to Europe.

Ensign Arthur Molesworth to be Lieutenant, vice Newsome on leave to Europe.

Ensign John Vernon to be Lieutenant, vice Smith on leave to Europe.

Ensign Francis Kirkpatrick Aiskill to be Lieutenant, vice Davis placed on the Invalid Establishment.

Fort St. George, 21st March, 1795.

G. O. By Government

The two Companies of the 6th battalion of Native Infantry, doing duty at Wallajahbad and Arnee, to march to Pondicherry, and on their arrival, the dismounted troopers of the 5th regiment of Native Cavalry, to join their corps at Chemundulum.

24th March, 1795.

The Right Honorable the President in Council is pleased to direct that all Officers on leave at the Presidency do proceed to join their respective Corps on or before the 1st day of next month.

The Artillery and Gun Lascars at Ellore, with the Field Ordnance there, and Stores attached, to proceed to Masulipatam.

Lieutenant Colonel Durand appointed to the charge of Ellore.

Extract of a Letter from Rangoon, dated 29th January 1795.

"The river is filling daily:—there are at present here, the Catherine, Captain Read, late the Princess Royal, the York, Captain Sparrow, the Hetroe, Captain Cumming; the Hormuzier, Captain Meek, from China; and six sail of Pariars;—some of them, however, appear to be very stout ships.

"These arrivals, have enhanced the price of timber, considerably: Duggies, are at 25 ticals each; Shiubin, at 17 per pair,—good and bad as they run; and all other smalls off, in the same proportion.

"I would not, by any means, advise your mercantile readers, to send any quantity of piece goods;—except a few, of a very favourite quality, to this place, as they are now, since the arrival of these ships, from the Coast, a mere drug, and will not fetch any price at all.

"Captain Newton's vessel was launched on the 22d instant, and is getting ready with all possible expedition;—I apprehend he will be able to sail, long before Captain Rumaine."

His Majesty's Ship the Suffolk, Commodore Rainier, arrived from Vizagapatam, on the 19th Instant,—The Commodore landed on the following morning, under the usual salute.

His Majesty's Frigate the Orpheus, Captain Newcome, also arrived from a cruize on the morning of the 19th Instant.

We understand that the Merchants of Bombay, have written a Letter to Commodore Rainier, expressive of their obligations to him for his exertions in the protection of their trade, and the beneficial services in general, of His Majesty's Naval Commanders. Nothing can more strongly evince the happy effects which this vigilance has had upon the security of our commerce, than the moderation of our premiums of insurance, which are little more than half what they were a twelve month ago, and but little superior to the rates required in peace: risks between Calcutta and Bombay are so low as 6, and between that place and Madras 4 per cent.

The following regulations were established at the India House, on the 3d of June last, respecting the sums which Commanders of Indiamen are permitted to receive for the passage and accomodation of persons going to India:

RANK.	SUMS.
General Officers,	£. 250
Gentlemen of Council, or Colonels	200
Lieutenant Colonels, Majors, Senior Merchants, Junior Merchants, and Factors,	150
Captains,	125
Writers, Lieutenants, and Ensigns	105
Cadets and Assistant Surgeons,	70

Commanders who shall receive, directly or indirectly, any further sum, or sums, are to forfeit treble the sum so taken.

The following Paragraph, taken from the last received Bombay Gazette, accounts for the irregular mode in which the Papers of that Presidency have been lately received.

"The Editor has to appologise to his "Subscribers on the other side of India, for "not transmitting their papers last Post "day, which arose from Government having "restricted the size of the packets.

A Colonel Macdonald, a Scotchman, formerly a Colonel of the regiment of Fife, in the service of France, was guillotined at Paris, on the 12th July, and twenty-seven others, most of them Aliens, except Rapin Thoyras, a Captain of Artillery, and a creature of Lameth, of twenty two years of age.

POETRY.

VOX ET PRETEREA NIHIL.

I love you—oft the youth did say,
I love you—oft the maiden sigh'd,
Thus echoed both from day to day,
Till one wax'd cold—and t'other—DIED!

Vellore, 21st March. ASMODEO.

The falowing Paragraphs, respecting the late army Promotions, are copied from the Bombay Gazette, of the 4th, Instant.

From the list of Colonels, for the year 1796 to John Drouly, are promoted to be Major Generals.

From the list of Lieutenant Colonels, for the year 1787 to J. Buckeridge, are promoted to the rank of Colonels.

From the list of Majors for the year 1790, to Stair Park Dalrymple, are promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonels.—and all the Captains, for the year 1783, are promoted to the rank of Majors.

Extract of a letter from the Adamant, received by the Leebound Schooner.

"The cause of her sailing at this time, is to give a passage to a Frenchman, who aarived here on the 29th of Jan. on a small vessel, from Basseen.

"He gave a very lame account of himself, and said, he was obliged to fly for his life from Fegue; that he would gladly be an overseer, or be any other way useful to the settlement.

"Capt. Copestake's people knew him to by the person who cut out Mr. Tyler's Ketch, from Coringa, in the beginning of the war: from his being rather inquisitive, and contradictory in his accounts, he was seized.

"Upon examining his papers, it appears, he was second captain of the grab snow, taken from the Hon Mr. Tournor, a few months ago, on the coast of Pedier; she was at Basseen when he left it, and going to sail for the Isle of France, in all the first week of Feb.—He had several of the head lands about this Island and Harbour, which he had newly drawn with a pencil; likewise the papers of a small vessel, belonging to Pulo Penang, which was cut off at Mergive, two or three months ago.

"It is by no means improbable he came to view our situation and strength, with intention of bringing in the grab, if he could muster sufficient strength. The little vessel was going back to Basseen, on the evening of the 2d, but was stopped; her sails and mast are on shore, under a guard; and the Captain of her, with the Frenchman, are sent under a guard, to Bengal."

THE ROYAL VISIT,

We have much pleasure in presenting our Readers, the following accurate and ample account of the Royal Visit, to the fleet of Marquis Howe, taken from the Portsmouth Gazette, of the 30th of June.

Wednesday—About a quarter before five, Prince Ernest and the four elder Princesses arrived at the Commissioner's house, in the dock-yard. The royal standard was immediately hoisted at the dock gates, the gun wharf, &c.

Thursday—At half past ten o'clock their Majesties and the two other Princesses arrived at the dock-yard, escorted by a party of life-guards, and were received at the Commissioner's by the Lords of the Admiralty, the Duke of Richmond, Sir Peter Parker, Commissioner Saxton, &c. Their arrival was immediately announced by a triple discharge of the guns round the ramparts.

About 11, the Royal Pair, with their illustrious offspring, embarked from the King's stairs, in the dock, in the following order; where the boats, with their respective officers in them were assembled, and properly arranged:

Admiral Sir Peter Parker, with his flag in the boat, led the way.

The King's boat, with the standard flying, steered by Sir Andrew Douglas.

Boats with the Royal Family.

The Admiralty boat, with flag; and the boats with the King's suite on each quarter of it.

Four Flag Officers aneath.

R. A Pasley. R. A Gardner. Sir A. Hood. R. A. Bowyer.

The Captains of the Line, with those of the Frigates of the Channel Fleet, according to seniority (the senior to the right) in four lines, with pendants in their boats.

At the return on shore, Admiral Earl Howe, with his flag, preceeded the King's boat, in place of Sir Peter Parker, who followed the Admiralty boat in centre of the flag officers.

The standard, on approaching the fleet from the harbour, was saluted with 21 guns. The ships began when the Queen Charlotte fired her second gun.

The ships were manned upon the lower and topmast shrouds only, and gave three cheers as the standard passed; the guard was turned out, and the officers saluted.

Upon his Majesty's going on board the Queen Charlotte, the standard was hoisted in that ship at the main topmast head, the Admiral's flag at the fore topmast head, and the union at the mizen topmast head.

Whilst the standard, &c. was displayed on board the Queen Charlotte, the Admiralty flag was hoisted on board the Queen, and Admiral Gardner's flag, for the time, was hoisted on board another ship.

The Admiralty, from the Queen, saluted the standard on board the Charlotte, upon the flag striped red and white being hoisted at the mizen peak of the latter, and all the ships of the fleet did the same, beginning when the Charlotte had fired her second gun.

On the King's going on shore, the standard and admiralty flags were hauled down, the usual ones reinstated, and the same ceremony took place repecting saluting, manning, &c. as when their Majesties were on board.

The Niger and Aquilon were previously unmoored and kept short on their anchors, in readiness to get under weigh when ordered.

The boats of the procession went to their respective ships whilst their Majesties were on board the Charlotte.

Rear Admirals Bowyer and Pasley, being unable to attend, were substituted in the boats by their respective Captains.

The Flag Officers and Captains were the frock uniform, with plain hats.

When the boats came abreast the platform, going and coming, their Majesties, &c. were saluted with a discharge of the guns, bands of music on the batteries playing God save the King, &c. accompanied by the King's butchers from the walls of the slaughter house, on marrow bones and cleavers.

HIS MAJESTY was received on board the Queen Charlotte, by Admiral Howe, with his sword drawn. He addressed his Lordship nearly as follows:

"I have the greatest pleasure imaginable in coming so far to thank you for the most gallant action that ever was fought, and in which you so manifestly displayed the seamen and the officer."

He passed an eulogium on all the officers and men who assisted in the gallant action; and then presented Earl Howe with a blue enamelled sword elegantly enriched with diamonds.

Earl Howe, after thanking his Majesty for the distinguished honour conferred on him, begged to recommend to his particular notice the brave officers, seamen, &c. who fought under him in the late engagement.

The Royal Party then inspected the different parts of the ship, cleared on the occasion exactly the same as if for immediate action. His Majesty particularly noticed and expressed his admishment at the effect of a shot which penetrated the larboard wing transom knee, a body of solid timber 5 feet 3 inches in thickness, which killed one man, wounded four, and disabled the after gun.

Afterwards their Majesties, the Prince, and six Princesses retired into the great cabbin, and partook of an excellent cold collation. Their suite were entertained in the wardroom, where many loyal and applicable toasts were given, and God save the King sung with taste and judgment during the repast.

Friday—At half past 10, their Majesties, Prince Ernest, and the Princesses, with their retinue, came from the Commissioner's, in the dock-yard, in four coaches, to the Governor's house on the parade, where a levee was held.—Present, the Duke of Richmond, Lord Amherst, Sir Henry Martin, and all the naval and military officers at the Port.

Sir John Carter, Mayor, the Corporation, and a number of the Burgesses, were in procession from the Guildhall, and were introduced by Earl Howe, when Sir John addressed their Majesties thus:

"To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

"We, your Majesty's most faithful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of Portsmouth, with sufficite satisfaction and joy, beg leave to approach your Royal Person to offer our congratulation on your Majesty's arrival in this your ancient and most loyal borough.

"Anxious for the glory of your Majesty's reign, and the prosperity of your dominions, we rejoice at the signal victory which the extraordinary exertions of the British [illegible] have lately obtained.

"The intrepid and judicious conduct of the Commander in Chief, the spirited behaviour of the officers, the heroic valour of the seamen, marines, and soldiers, must ever be remembered with the warmest emotions, demand our highest expressions of gratitude, and be distinguished with unexampled lustre in the annals of this kingdom.

"We reflect with concern upon the wretched state of anarchy and confusion to which a neighbouring nation is reduced. From their calamitounes we learn an instructive lesson, and, by contemplating their distresses, we know how to value the British Constitution.

"With hearts full of zeal and attachment, we beg to assure your Majesty of our determinated resolution to discountenance and repress every kind of innovation and disorder that may (but which we trust will never) arise in this country, and to approve ourselves your Majesty's most dutiful, loyal and affectionate subjects."

"To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

"We, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the ancient Borough of Portsmouth, with the purest sentiments of respect, embrace this glorious occasion of presenting our humble Duty to your Majesty.

"The exalted qualities of your mind, the great example of every public and private virtue for which your Majesty has been so long and so eminently distinguished, fill our minds with the highest sense of gratitude and affection.

"Long may your Majesty continue to witness the success of the British arms against all our enemies, and may the noble Victory we celebrate be only the harbinger of others

"greater and more important, until the Blessings of Peace and Tranquility shall be restored, and nothing remain to disturb the comfort and happiness of your Majesty and your Family to the latest posterity."

"HER MAJESTY was pleased to return the following answer: I am always happy to attend his Majesty to Portsmouth, where we are at all times so loyally and affectionately received."

His Majesty was pleased to confer the honor of Knighthood on Charles Saxton, Esq. Commissioner of the Dockyard; Wm. Rule, Esq. Master Builder; and Charles Marshall, Esq. Commissioner of the Navy.

The street was lined from Landport gate to the parade by the Denbighshire militia, whilst their Majesties passed and repassed; and the lifeguards, together with the Royal South Gloucester militia, did duty on the grand parade, opposite the Governor's house, during the levee, which ended at half past two o'clock.

Soon after, the Royal Visitors embarked again from the King's stairs, with the same attendants, and in the same order as before, to view the captured hulks of the French fleet, lying up the harbour, and returned to Commissioner Saxton's in the evening.

Saturday—This morning, at a quarter past nine, the Royal Party and suite came to the Governor's house. Soon after which his Majesty and the Prince Ernest reviewed the Royal South Gloucester militia on the grand parade, and about ten went to the gun wharf, where they staid a short time, and then, immediately after breakfast, they repaired to an elegant stand, erected for their reception, to view the launching of the PRINCE OF WALES, which occurred at twenty minutes past 11, to the highest gratification of a most numerous concourse of people, who were indiscriminately admitted.

Prince Ernest performed the ceremony of the christening; and the King, in the midst of his lovely offspring, waved his hat, joined in the cheers, being happy at the reiterated acclamations of a surrounding multitude of his loyal subjects, eagerly gazing on each action of their beloved Monarch.

Immediately after the launch, his Majesty, the Queen, Prince, and Princesses, walked to the King's stairs, where they embarked in the same order and had the same salutations as on Thursday, to go on board the Aquilon frigate at Spithead. As soon as they got on board, she immediately weighed and stood to the westward towards Cowes; off which they laid to the whole afternoon, dined on board, and returned about half past 8 to the dockyard.

LORD HOWE.

The following is a copy of the public thanks of Lord Howe to the different ships companies, for their gallant conduct in the actions with the French fleet, dated from the Charlotte, at Spithead, June 11th, 1794.

"The Admiral cannot omit the very grateful part of his duty, that requires these his public acknowledgements to be made, of highly distinguished examples of [illegible] and perseverance, which have been [illegible] every description of Officers, Seamen, [illegible]itary Corps, in the ships of the fleet, during several actions with the enemy on the 28th and 29th of May, and the 1st of the present month; and which cannot be better affirmed than by refer[illegible] to their effect on those occasions [illegible]applaud, in their active and unwearied [illegible]ss to put their ships in a state for service, so speedily as it was completed after those actions had ceased.

The above given out in public orders to the ships under the direction of Rear-Admiral Caldwell, at Plymouth.

Monday a fleet of Dutch merchant ships arrived at Spithead, consisting of upwards of 50 ships, under convoy of a Dutch frigate and a cutter; and with them a great many English Vessels came from the Downs.

Sunday passed by here, for London, the Prince William Henry schooner, from Botany Bay. She was nine months and 4 days on her passage from Port Jackson, which was, at the time of the vessel's departure, in a very prosperous state. She touched at the Cape and St. Helena on her voyage home.

Extract of a Letter, Naples, 24 Sept.

"Mount Vesuvius is still covered with a thick cloud of ashes; all noise has ceased, and the running of the lava is stopped. The former crater has fallen in, and the cone of the volcano is lowered 4 or 500 feet, the present crater being enlarged and nearly upon a level with the top of the mountain of Somma. The ashes that were carried up, with a column of water and smoke, to the perpendicular height of four miles, have fallen and done infinite mischief to the town, the villages, and country at the foot of that mountain, th[illegible]wing down some houses, and beating in [illegible] roofs of many. NATIONAL CONVENTION.

October 10th, 1794.

Read a letter from Citizen J. P. Coste, Minister of the French Protestant Church at Charlestown, offering to the Convention a new warlike machine. It is a Carcass, of a very violent fire, that nothing can extinguish when once set on fire. This Carcass can be thrown upwards of Eight hundred yards from a calibre of 24lbs, and still further by a superior force.

No vessel of 120 Guns could sustain a single broadside shot from a piece of 74.—I believe I could engage my life, adds Citizen Coste, that Six ships of our line, could with this fire, attack the whole maritime force of Europe in one day, and not suffer so much as a single boat to return into port.—I likewise assert that four pieces of a large Calibre, to throw this fire would be sufficient to prevent a whole Squadron from entering a harbour, or to burn those that persisted.—This Carcass is susceptible of considerable improvements, and might be rendered terrible to troops on shore, particularly to Cavalry —Even thrown against a wall it will continue to burn upwards of half an hour.

Its flame and smell would carry in the night disorder and dismay into the best organized Squadron of horse in the world.

Citizen Coste joined to this offer a ball, prepared cold, of the same materials, that is susceptible of inflaming all combustible matter.—Citizen Coste, finishes by swearing that he would sooner, lose his life than disclose the secret to any one, if the Convention does not deem proper to make use of it.

EXTRACT of a LETTER dated Kuttigh, near Antwerp, September 30th, 1794.

"In my last I informed you, that at Walcheim, the French had promised not to fire upon us, unless we should commence first. I should inform you, that the river which seperates our posts there, from those of the enemy, is only about 40 yards broad.—This day there has been no firing on the contrary, the troops have been talking familiarly to each other across the river.—One or two of the French swam over to our soldiers with some gin, and after remaining some time returned unmolested. The scene this day was somewhat curious: the French and English, who not many hours before had been firing at each other with the greatest animosity, were now sitting on the opposite banks of the river, trying who could beat each other at singing,—the one party, in a high tone singing La Carmingnol, &c. while the other was vociferously employed in endeavoring to drown their voices, by singing God save the King,—Rule Britannia,—and Hearts of Oak.—In the course of the conversation, the French behaved with great civility to our troops, they abused the Hessians with the most contemptuous acrimony, telling them, they shortly expected to have them fighting for the Republic; for the Convention meant to make the tempting offer to the Prince of Hesse, of half a sous a day more for each man, than what was paid by the King of Great Britain! The French repeatedly exclaim—"Good Englishmen go home, you have "no business here,"—and indeed, as the Emperor has given up all idea of preserving this Country, many among us are of that way of thinking."

MADRID.

29th September.

The King has condemned twelve of the principal officers that delivered up Collioure, to the French, to serve for two years in quality of Common Soldiers in the troops posted on the Coast of Africa.

It is permitted to such officers as are dissatisfied with this sentence, to demand being tried by a Court Martial.

Letters from Boston in America, mention that a fire had broken out in that City—The fire was so exceedingly violent, that in little more than an hour a quarter of that City was reduced to ashes. A great number of Magazines of goods became a prey to the flames. The damage sustained by this unfortunate fire has been estimated at two hundred thousand pounds Sterling.

Four Ships of the Line are to be sent to Convoy some new raised troops to Garrison the Fortress of Gibraltar. The old Garrison being habituated to a warm climate, are to be sent to the West Indies.

HELVOETSLUYS, AUG. 1.

This town is at present full of French Emigrants, from the different towns in Holland, waiting for a passage to England, which is at present the only asylum for these unfortunate beings.

The Elector of Cologne has just issued an order, that none of them shall remain in his dominions more than four and twenty hours.

OVERLAND-PACKET.

The following comprehensive and important Intelligence, is transcribed from the BOMBAY COURIER of the 28th of February; the accuracy displayed by the EDITOR of that excellent Paper, in the present detail, and indeed upon all occasions, induces us to present it to our Readers, without the smallest alteration whatever.

On Monday Morning a Dingey arrived from Muscat, charged with a Packet from Mr. Manesty, the Honble. Company's Resident in the Persian Gulph, to the Government of this Presidency, with Private Letters and Papers from London down to the 13th, of October, and Continental Gazettes down to the 21st of the same Month.

In times like the present, so marked with anxious solicitude, every accession of intelligence that can instruct us in the situation of affairs in Europe is valuable, the irritable state of Public opinion makes it doubly important, that those to whom it belongs to detail this intelligence, should report it with a dispassionate accuracy, and endeavour to discriminate the truth from those fabrications which owe their origin to prejudice, and their circulation to credulity.

In compiling a summary of these accounts, the first circumstance which claims the attention, is the position of the contending armies, these armies on the side of Brabant, have of late been distinguished—by the that of the Rhine, under the command of Count de Clairfait, opposed by the conventional army under General Jourdan, and the army upon the Dutch Frontier Commanded by the Duke of York, to which is opposed the Conventional army under General Pichegru. Upon former occasions, we have seen the Austrians upon the Rhine, contending against the more numerous hosts of France, with a brave and resolute spirit for every foot of territory: we have seen the French led on by that Mania, for which they have lately been distinguished, possess themselves successively of almost every fortress to the Eastward of the Rhine, the Austrians have now abandoned Brabant to its fate, and confided the security of the Germanic Empire to the banks of this river. The Towns of Maestricht and Venlo were besieged, Duss ldorp on the Rhine was in the same predicament, Colougne had submitted to the French.—To the Northward we find the Town of Bois le duc in the hands of the enemy, the strong fortresses of Breda and Bergen somadantzad, and the protection of the States confided to His Royal Highness the Duke of York, upon the Island of Bommel.

Although the Dutch had inundated part of their Frontier, the States General were by no means agreed upon the question, which was agitating upon the exceedency of laving Holland under water; there were some who urged that an invasion by the French would be less prejudicial than the opening of the Dykes, nevertheless in the exigence of their affairs, they had vested the Stadtholder with a kind of dictatorial authority in the levying and direction of their troops.

On the side of the Eastern Pyrennes, we observe Bellegarde the only remaining acquisition of the Allies upon the territory of the Republic, recovered from the arms of Spain, on the Western side the French have made successful incursions into the rich and fertile province of Biscay.

France in her internal situation was yet the prey of political divisions, between the parties of the Moderates and the Jacobines; the former had preserved the ascendency it had acquired upon the death of Robespierre: an ascendency however by no means so decided, as to preclude apprehensions of a future contest. The Government under the present regimen, had applied itself of late to correct the many abuses that had been introduced in the administration of Robespierre, in recompensing these who had suffered under the late arbitrary system, giving a greater security to the property of individuals, and bestowing a general encouragement upon arts, manufactures, and commerce.

Accounts from the West Indies present a melancholy picture of the fatal devastations which have attended an epidemical disease known under the description of the Yellow fever; it was this distemper which in the course of the year 1793, so unhappily prevailed in Pheladelphia: an instance of its rapid and deadly progress is cited in the case of the 43d regiment, which quitted Ireland, seven hundred men strong, and which was reduced by these accounts, to seventy or eighty, among the many who have fallen victims to this disease, we distinguish the name of Lord W. Townsend.

A forgery had been committed upon the Banks of England to the amount of 100,000 pounds, in 10 and 20 pound notes; the water mark had been so artfully counterfeited with a camels hair pencil in oil, that it was some time before the fraud was detected; the delinquent had not been discovered.

KING'S TROOPS.

A very extensive Military promotion had taken place in the British Army, which we propose upon future occasion to detail at length, for the present we shall confine ourselves to the laying before the public only such as we conclude will be more immediately interesting,

Four Roman Catholic Regiments were about to be raised in Ireland distined for foreign service; the Command of them was to be given to Mr. Henry Dillon, the brother of Count Dillon, the Duke of Fitzjames, The Count de Walsh, and Mr. O'Connel formerly a Colonel in the French service.

The East India Company had it in contemplation to raise at their expence for the service of Government in Great Britain and and Ireland, three regiments, which were to be Officered by Officers in the Company's service in England—it was also in agitation to reform the administration of justice in Madras and Bombay, by the erection of new Courts of Judicature; for which purpose two judges were to be sent out to each Presidency.

The issue of the deputation of Lord Spencer and Sir Thomas Grenville, from the Court of St. James's to that of Vienna, is represented to be a plan for subsidising 100,000 Austrians, two thirds of which expence is to be borne by Great Britain and the remainder by Holland.

MORNING CHRONICLE—JULY 20.

By the Danish brig the Lougen, arrived off Portsmouth from St. Croix, which Island she left on the 29th of June, we learn, that General Walterstoff, the Commander in Chief of the Danish Islands, had received a letter from Sir John Jervis, informing him, that on the 19th, the French force blocked up at Point à Petre, in Guadaloupe, had surrendered at discretion; and, that tranquility was restored to the Island. Sir Charles Grey and Sir John Jervis had determine to send these troops, together with a number of refractory people of colour, in their own ships, to St. Maloes.

An account had also been received at St. Croix, that the French and Negroes had attacked the Spaniards near the Cape, in the Island of Hispaniola, and had gained a complete victory, driving them back into their own settlement, from which they had advanced, with very considerable loss.

An express arrived on the 22d of July, from Portsmouth, announcing the arrival of the Puissant, of 74 guns, off the Isle of Wight, with the Jamaica Convoy, consisting of seventy-five vessels bound to London. They met four French Frigates in the Channel, which some of the Merchant vessels escaped from with great difficulty.

Considering the short period that has elapsed since our last advices from Great Britain the occurrences that have taken place at home are many and striking, one of the most conspicuous and least expected is a design that was meditated against the life of his Majesty, which was to have been perpetrated by means so barbarous and unmanly, that were it not authenticated in the most formal manner we should not hesitate to deny it our assent,

TONTINE
FOR FIVE YEARS.

Commencing the 16th March, 1795, and ending the 16th March, 1800.

AT a meeting of the Subscribers to the New Tontine, held this day at the British Bank, the following Articles were agreed upon.

EXPLANATION OF THE FOREGOING SCHEME.

THE PROPRIETOR of a Ticket, suppose No. 10, purchased originally for Seven Pagodas, will, if his Ticket is drawn in the First Class, be entitled to one of the Prizes, peculiar to that Class; for there are NO BLANKS: But should his Ticket remain in the Wheel, he will have to pay Five Pagodas in Addition to the original Price; and he will then be entitled to a Chance of any of the Prizes appropriated to the Second Class: But if No. 10, should not be drawn in the Second Class, and, here also, as in the First, there are NO BLANKS, the Proprietor of No. 10, will have to add Five Pagodas more, to the former Sums paid by him; which will entitle him to all the Advantages peculiar to the Third Class. So that for the Sum of Seventeen Pagodas, which the Proprietor of No. 10, will pay for his Ticket, he will have a Chance in the Three Classes; and the Advantages of the latter Class, by a reference to the Scheme, are extremely manifest and plain: and in proportion of the additional Sums, at the different Periods particularised, paid by the Holder of the Ticket No. 10, the intrinsic Value of the Ticket will be increased in the same Rate; and in the Event of its being drawn in the First or Second Class, he will be assured of A PRIZE.—an Advantage peculiar to this Lottery.

But if the Proprietor of the Ticket, No. 10, at the Conclusion of the Drawing of the First Class, or before the Commencement of the Drawing of the Second Class, doth not pay an additional Sum of Five Pagodas, he will not be entitled to the further Benefits of the Lottery; and so, likewise, if he doth not pay the further Sum of Five Pagodas, at the Conclusion of the Drawing of the Second Class, or before the Commencement of the Drawing of the Third Class, he will not be entitled to any of the Advantages of the Third Class.

There will be an Interval of Six Weeks between the Drawing of each Class, to allow Time to the Holders of Tickets to pay the additional Sums, according to the Conditions explained in the foregoing Case, of the supposed Purchase of the Ticket, No. 10.

The following Gentlemen have been Chosen a Committee for the purpose of Signing the Tickets, and preparing the Wheels, viz.

Josias Du Pré Porcher, Esquire,
Charlet Baker, Esquire,
Henry Sewell, Esquire,
John Tulloh, Esquire, and William Dring, Esquire.

A Committee of the Managers will particularly attend the Drawing, which is to Commence the 1st of July next.

The FUNDS, will be lodged in the CARNATIC BANK, where the Prizes will be paid after a Deduction of 10 per Cent.—Tickets signed by one of the Committee and the Agents will be ready for Delivery at the CARNATIC BANK, and the AGENTS OFFICE, on the 6th of April next.

Tickets may be had at Calcutta of Messrs. Fairlie, Reid, and Co. at 25 Sicca Rupees, and a further advance of 17½ Sicca Rupees to be paid, to entitle the Holders, of Undrawn Tickets to a Chance in the Second Class, and the same in the Third Class.
