

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF LORDS, FRIDAY JAN. 25.

Lord Audley took the Oath and his seat. Several Petitions in Appeal Cases were presented by Lord Walsingham.

REGENT BILL.

The House resolved itself into a Committee of the whole House, on the Regent Bill. The Clerk proceeded to read the whole of the Bill. Upon the first reading of the Bill, Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

Lord Grenville said, he had noticed in this Clause some words to be inserted. The words to be inserted were, 'According to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom, His Majesty.' Some dissentient and the dissentient was, 'His Majesty's.' Some dissentient night arise—some might wish to place from the wording of this Clause as it stood, so as to give Power and Authority, when it was expressed in the Clause according to the Laws and Constitution of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Constitution of His Majesty's Kingdoms.

The Lord Chancellor felt an objection to the omission of the words mentioned by the Noble Baron. This alteration was also put by Lord Walsingham, and agreed to.

Upon the Clause being read relative to the period of the Limitations, Lord Grenville shortly addressed the House upon this subject. His Lordship would not defend the clause as it stood, but he had given notice he would propose a shorter period for the continuance of the Restriction on the Government, so as to be subject to being on any objection respecting it in the present state of their proceedings. He had, ever since the present amendment, felt a great necessity to hold the Restriction as it stood, but he had given notice he would propose a shorter period for the continuance of the Restriction on the Government, so as to be subject to being on any objection respecting it in the present state of their proceedings.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Lord Chancellor said, he was very much surprised when he heard this clause had been proposed by the Noble Baron. He had not seen it, and he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years, but he had been under the impression that the Restriction on the Government would be continued for the period of three years.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

The Earl of Liverpool said, he foresaw the inconveniences which must result from the Resolution which had been adopted. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons. The Resolution was so general in its nature that it had created considerable difficulty in the House of Commons.

SALES BY AUCTION.

FOURTH DAY'S SALE.

TO BE SOLD BY PUBLIC AUCTION, BY Dobbin & Sutherland,

AT Popham's House,

ON THURSDAY NEXT, THE 27th INSTANT,

SALE TO COMMENCE AT HALF PAST 10 O'CLOCK,

AN ASSORTMENT OF EUROPE, CHINA,

AND SUNDRY OTHER ARTICLES,

PARTICULARS OF WHICH WILL BE MENTIONED IN

TO-MORROW'S CIRCULAR,

AND HAND-BILLS.

EUROPE GOODS.

TO BE SOLD BY PUBLIC AUCTION,

By Balfour and Hogg,

AT THEIR NEW ROOMS, On SATURDAY next, the 29th Instant,

SALE TO COMMENCE AT HALF PAST 10 O'CLOCK,

A VARIETY OF EUROPE GOODS,

AMONG WHICH IS A LARGE ASSORTMENT OF

HARD WARE, CATALOGUES WILL BE PUBLISHED

AND SENT IN CIRCULATION.

GENUINE COGNAC BRANDY AND JAMAICA RUM.

TO BE SOLD BY PUBLIC AUCTION,

By Balfour and Hogg,

AT A GOWDON ON THE BEACH, About one hundred yards to the Southward of

MESSIEURS Harington and Co.'s

NEW GOWDON, On SATURDAY, the 6th day of July next,

AT 11 O'CLOCK IN THE FORENOON, BY ORDER OF

Mr. T. A. EGLAN,

POSITIVELY WITHOUT RESERVE, TO CLOSE A CONCERN.

SEVEN Casks of Real Jamaica Brandy, and

Five Casks of Jamaica Rum, of superior quality and flavour, imported from Bordeaux, on the American Ship Donroca, Capt. Cabott, in the year 1810.

The Casks contain from 120 to 130 gallons each, and will be sold one Cask in a lot, for the convenience of purchasers.

Certificates of the above Import can be produced.

N. B. A Red Flag will be hoisted opposite to the Gowdon, on Saturday, the 6th of July next.

MADRAS—PRINTED BY WILLIAM SMITH,

OPPOSITE THE WALLAJAH GATE IN THE FORT.

It is requested that these Subscribers to the Columns, who are occasionally changed their Residence, will give any Amusement at the Press which will deliver the Paper in proper time, and give early notice of the place to which they remove to the Printer, who will pay attention to their orders as far as possible to give information at the same time, in case that their irregularity may be prevented in future.

